http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Woman's_Bible
1890 at the formation of the National American Woman Suffrage Association (NAWSA), Elizabeth Cady Stanton was elected president.
She left such duties to Susan B. Anthony and instead traveled to Europe for two years.
While there she met with women who shared her views, and she gathered critical observations about the place of woman in the Bible.
In Greenbank, Bristol, Stanton met with English suffragist Helen Bright Clark, and spoke to a group about the Bible position of woman.
Clark questioned whether Stanton's liberal views had shocked some in attendance, and Elizabeth Cady Stanton replied:
"Well, if we who do see the absurdities of the old superstitions never unveil them to others,
how is the world to make any progress in the theologies?
I am in the sunset of life, and I feel it to be my special mission to tell people what they are not prepared to hear instead of echoing worn-out opinions."
